NOTICE (07/12/2012) -- Budget shortfall may result in loss of some critical streamgages. There is no funding, beginning October 1, 2012 (Fiscal year 2013) to support 19 streamgages in the New York portion of the Susquehanna basin Flood Forecast and Warning System and 6 lake and streamgages in the New York portion of the Lake Champlain basin. If no funding is identified, these sites will be shut down on March 1, 2013. These 25 gages are in addition to 6 streamgages slated to be shut down January 1, 2013 and the 8 streamgages that were shut down already because of funding shortfalls.

NOTICE (05/24/2012) -- Six additional streamgages may be lost on January 01, 2013 due to funding reductions from partner agencies.

Users who are willing to contribute funding to continue operation of these streamgages should contact Rob Breault or Ward Freeman of the USGS New York Water Science Center at (518-285-5658 or dc_ny@usgs.gov).
This table is also available as a PDF for printing.

NOTICE (03/01/2012) -- Data collection has been discontinued at two Hudson River estuary monitoring sites (West Point and Piermont Pier) due to funding reductions from partner agencies. Although historic data will remain accessible, no new data will be collected unless one or more new funding partners are found.
